 third, major, definition: just, 11, 55, 108; Pythagorean, 7, 11, 55, 108; semiaugmented (redundant, septimal), 203, 206
 third, minor, definition: just, 11, 55, 108; Pythagorean, 6, 11, 55, 108; semidiminished (deficient, septimal), 203, 206 third, 'neutral', 49, 180-81, 184, 228, 230, 237, 238, 321 (Vicentino's "propinque" minor 3rds)
 'third sound', 111, 111n
 thirteenth harmonic: horn and trumpet, 196
 tiorbino, 239n
 tone: definition of 'major' and 'minor', 12, 56, 109; effects of commatic shift, 55, 80; mean tone, 56 tone: Aristoxenic divisions, 281, 302, 402; division into 9 commas, 47, 48, 346, 349; division into 10 commas, 341-4 transpositions: Bresciani's rule ("tavoletta"), 450-53, 471, 475

- Tricembalo (Stella), 327, 403-13, 429
- Triharmonic harpsichord: see Cembalo panarmonico
- trumpet: ‘quality factor’ of ancient instruments (Q factor), 196; seventh harmonic, 195, 195n (Handel’s Judas Maccabäus)
- tuning-fork: “differential” (Natali), 165; early-19th-century Britain, 69n
- tuning lattice: historical origin (Euler), 12
- undecimal ratios: see eleventh harmonic
- vibrato, 177
- viola da gamba: tastini, 40; fret positioning, 117
- viol consort: in just intonation (Doni), 230; ‘Ptolemaic’ tuning (Doni), 180-84, 237-8; Viola diarmonica (Doni), 40, 230
- violin family: enharmonic microtones in compositional practice, 139-52; 5ths mistuned by a comma in usual performance, 114; diharmonic violin and viola (Doni), 40, 230-31, 247-50; fingerings, 134-7; intonation, chap. C, passim (see also functional-expressive intonation); just vs. Pythagorean intonation, 169-72; open strings, 112, 113, 124-30, 133-4; violin vs. flute, 512-4, 518-9
- Violone panarmonico (Doni), 41, 243-5, 256, 258
